

COMPACT GOAL

MCC's compact with Georgia includes $395.3 million of strategic investments designed to rehabilitate key regional infrastructure, stimulate regional trade by improving transportation, ensure a reliable energy supply, improve the delivery of regional and municipal services, and develop regional enterprises by providing investment capital and by increasing productivity in farms.

In November 2008, MCC and the Government of Georgia signed the First Amendment to the Compact which provided an additional $100 million in Compact funding to expand existing activities under the Compact.

These estimates are based on the best, currently available information and may be updated if new and reliable data become available.

MCC defines beneficiaries as all members of a household who stand to see an increase in its income. Beneficiaries are counted only once in the total beneficiary count even if they benefit from more than one project, so the total beneficiary count may be different than the sum of the different project beneficiary counts. MCC estimates and reports expected beneficiaries when sufficiently reliable data exists to support the estimation. If such evidence is lacking, no estimation is attempted.

Total benefits expected from a project are obtained from the ERR analysis MCC conducts during due diligence. Beneficiary counts, although consistent with benefit streams identified in the economic analysis, are not necessarily derived from these models. Calculating the amount of benefit per beneficiary is therefore not appropriate and can be misleading.

Project Preparation: For Infrastructure projects this includes assessments and feasibility, detailed project planning and design, and competitive procurement. For other projects, this includes training, collecting baseline data, public outreach, selecting beneficiaries or target area and revising project methodology accordingly, procurement, contracting of project managers, and project pilots.
